Studler Doyle is a global investigation and forensic accounting firm. This firm was established by Dee Studler in 2001. Studler Doyle is based in Aurora, Illinois.

Studler Doyle focuses on providing high-quality services and consistent product concept to its clients.

What makes different Studler Doyle from other forensic accounting firms is the fact that catastrophic events like tax seasons and hurricanes do not affect its focus on crime insurance.

The broad background and experience made this forensic accounting firm a leader in providing crime and fidelity investigation.

Studler Doyle is a multinational company because it aims to cater to client's multiple language & cultural needs. It has employees from different nations, such as French, Afrikaans, Chinese, Dutch, German, Hebrew, Italian, Portuguese, and Spanish.

EXPERIENCE

SDC CPA

January 2001-

Forensic Accounting & Global Investigation

Dee Studler and Krista Doyle founded Studler Doyle in January 2001 for the express purpose of meeting the growing need for fraud investigation and forensic accounting by claim adjusters & attorneys. The insurance industry underwent a radical change in the crime insurance arena. Many large forensic accounting companies did not view crime insurance with the same importance as business income, business interruption or property stock loss work under property insurance. Studler Doyle's focus on crime insurance is not distracted by catastrophes, such as hurricanes or tax seasons, as might be other forensic accounting firms.
