Tanya Taupier - Human Resources Executive With Aetna in Hartford, CT

Tanya Taupier is an experienced human resources executive who holds responsibilities with Aetna as executive director. Based in Hartford, Connecticut, she directs a highly trained human resources team in setting in place talent and organizational strategies that enable the insurance leader to achieve corporate goals. Tanya Taupier has implemented strategies to reverse employee turnover trends and set in place a new action plan that drove significant engagement survey results.

Ms. Taupier was previously self-employed as a human capital consultant and provided business owners with dedicated support spanning human capital, business development, and organizational design functions. Among her client-driven engagements was one that enabled a shift to monthly subscriptions from a fee for service model.

Emphasizing nutrition, Ms. Taupier has an interest in meals that are non-GMO, organic, gluten free, and healthy. Family-focused, she enjoys fitness activities such as cross training and horseback riding in her free time.
