Daniel Hohal - An Extensive Background in Complex Claims Litigation

Daniel Hohal is a respected insurance professional who guides a team of claims representatives handling cases throughout New Jersey and New York. As a longtime member of Berkshire Hathaway GUARD Insurance Companies, he supervises large loss and complex claims that require careful coordination among multiple parties. Daniel Hohal assigns cases as they come in.

Certified as a specialist in auto claims, Dan Hohal has past experience with his company as oversight supervisor responsible for assigning auto claims to appropriate third-party vendors. In cases with less complex issues at play, he has handled adjustments in-house and ensured that proper protocol was followed in issuing settlements for property damage and bodily injury.

Dan Hohal holds a BBA from Marywood University and is working toward an MBA at Wilkes University. A martial arts enthusiast, Daniel Hohal has experience as a black-belt martial arts teacher with the World Tang Soo Do Association extending backward to his early teen years.
