

Hal Shapiro (Scarsdale, NY)

Hal Shapiro – Real Estate Broker in Scarsdale, NY

A current resident of Scarsdale, NY, Hal Shapiro completed his secondary education at New Rochelle High School in New Rochelle, New York, and his postsecondary education at the University of Miami (U of M) in Coral Gables, Florida. After earning his bachelor of business administration from U of M, he embarked on a career in real estate brokerage and advisory services with a dual focus in retail tenants and property owner representation.

As the current senior director of New York City's Winick Realty Group, Hal Shapiro handles client brokerage negotiations throughout Westchester County, the Bronx, and Manhattan. His accomplishments in recent years include completing two retail leases for spaces totaling 6,422 square feet at the base of the 177-unit PowerHouse Condominium complex at 50-09 Second Street in Long Island City. The new property will house retail locations for new tenant Tiger J Taekwondo and facilitate a significant expansion by existing tenant Brighter Babies.
