Anthony E. Westreich - Chairman and CEO of Monday Properties

Committed to real estate investment, Anthony E. Westreich serves as the chairman and CEO of New York City-based Monday Properties, which he founded. As such, he has executed dozens of transactions amounting to roughly $12 billion and more than 25 million square feet. Anthony E. Westreich also developed the firm's business philosophy, which emphasizes a buy-and-hold approach as a means of achieving long-term financial objectives.

Before establishing Monday Properties, Anthony Westreich functioned as the chief operating officer of Novo MediaGroup, an Internet professional service solutions firm in San Francisco. The company counts Disney Channel, Sony Electronics, and Toyota among major clients for which it has developed attractive, user-friendly websites.

Early in his career, Mr. Westreich honed his real estate business skills by overseeing leasing and construction projects as a partner with Westfield Realty, Inc., in Arlington, Virginia. The firm's portfolio encompassed millions of square feet dedicated to commercial and residential properties.
