Email: info@bradliebe.com

Since 2013, Brad Liebe has served as chief operating officer of Peoples Church in Fresno, California. His duties in this position include overseeing and developing the church's worldwide operations. Brad Liebe also collaborates with the lead pastor and chief financial officer to develop an annual operating plan that integrates with the church's comprehensive operations strategy.

Concurrently, Brad Liebe owns the Fort Meyers, Florida-based, independent estate planning firm KK&B Financial Services for Seniors, which helps mature adults in Wisconsin, Florida, and California reach their estate planning goals. He also conducts seminars and one-on-one consultations for Rick Olson Seminars, helping individuals and businesses identify, prioritize, and achieve their objectives.

Brad Liebe graduated from Waupaca High School in Waupaca, Wisconsin, where he served as class president during his sophomore, junior, and senior years. A member of his school's basketball and football teams, he earned the title of co-captain during his junior and senior years. After graduating, he enrolled at North Central University in Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he studied youth ministry and, during his junior year, served as student body president.
