David Luther Giertz has over three decades of experience in the world of finances. And right now, he works as a financial advisor for Nationwide Investment Services Corporation. His years of experience, education, and hard work have brought good things to Nationwide. He has also used his experience to help thousands of people in the country with their financial and investment issues.

David Giertz acquired his undergrad degree from Millikin University in Illinois and then his Masters of Business Administration from the University of Miami. This prestigious educational background prepared him for a lifelong and fruitful career in the financial world. Giertz is also a Certified Business Coach through the World Association of Business Coaches.

Before joining Nationwide Investment Services, David Giertz worked a variety of roles at Citigroup. Even though he started as a financial services advisor, Giertz quickly advanced to becoming an area director and then ultimately becoming an executive vice president of sales. He also did work for Financial Horizons Security Corporation in the late 80's and early 90's.

David Giertz joined Nationwide in 1999. He has been there ever since, a loyal and dedicated employee. Giertz works for Nationwide in Dublin, Ohio and in the past has served in sales and as a senior vice president. Soon after, he became president of Nationwide's Sales and Distribution. He still serves in this role at Nationwide services.
