

Antonio Junior (Miami)

Antonio Junior, Multi-industry Entrepreneur in Miami, Florida

Over the course of a career spanning nearly 20 years, Antonio Junior has established himself as an influential business leader in Miami. He most recently became a member of the Board of Directors of Globaldox, a diversified business active in such areas as forensic accounting, banking, and tax compliance. Antonio Junior of Miami comes to this role having achieved success as founder of the lifestyle group 7one, which challenges audiences to live in the present while envisioning a successful future.

Under Antonio Junior's direction, 7one has grown to represent ambition that encompasses body, mind, and spirit. Having registered its concept with the United States Trademark and Patent Office, he continues to oversee the creation of media that encourages the rejecting of negative thoughts and the embracing of life with purpose. He established the company in 2005, having previously distinguished himself as head of Florida Conservation, Inc., a fuel reclaiming business, and as founder of airport services group Diversified Management International. In continuing leadership of both companies, he has facilitated Diversified Management's transition into a consultancy role and has established Florida Conservation as a leader in its industry nationwide.
